Isn’t it amazing that one island could have so many different types of beaches? Langkawi surprises again and again with its idyllic beaches (or ‘pantai’ in Malay). There’s popular Pantai Cenang, ideal for beach activities such as jet skiing, parasailing, banana boat riding and more. Next door is Pantai Tengah, another west-facing beach with the same great sunsets, but a little quieter scene. For even less people and distractions, there’s Pantai Kok or Tekul Datar with its coral reef, and scenic Pantai Tanjung Rhu and Pantai Pasir Tengkorak.
Roads in Langkawi are well supported and in good condition so hiring a car for self-drive adventures is a good option. You will need to watch out for motorbike riders. The occasional water buffalo that may wander onto the road and wildlife crossing. It is recommended that you use a licensed and insured car rental company to prevent any unpleasant incidents in the event of an accident.

TAXI

Taxis are readily available and resort staff can make bookings for you. Taxis work on a fixed price basis and we recommend you check the rate card where your fare is quoted. Some taxi drivers speak English better than others and they can be useful for round-island trips as they can show you many points of interest. Taxis can be hired from the airport, all hotels and from major attractions.
