Wellness Destination Langkawi

Although known mainly for its breathtaking nature, Langkawi has, over the last decade, come into its own as a true wellness destination—drawing on the rich healing tradition of the region. It offers visitors unique opportunities to relax & rejuvenate body, mind and spirit during their stay.

A crossroads of ancient maritime trade routes, the island embraces spa and well-being practices that reflect the distinctive blend of Malaysia's diverse cultures: indigenous Malay healing and beauty rituals, Ayurvedic treatments native to India, and treatments rooted in traditional Chinese medicine. Following international wellness trends, local spas increasingly also provide popular treatments from all over the world.

Genuinely caring therapists, dreamlike spa settings within a primordial rainforest or with a breathtaking view of the Andaman Sea, rich massage oils and exotic blends made of freshly harvested fruits, flowers, herbs and spices from the jungle... Langkawi's Spa experience is truly unique! You can find tiny, hidden massage places with heartfelt personal welcome, and décor so simple that no detail distracts from the actual treatment. And there are breathtaking five-star establishments with extensive hydrotherapy facilities from Jacuzzi to sauna and steam bath, providing a truly indulgent experience appealing to all of your senses. Page through to find the wellness experience that truly meets your needs...

THE SPA at THE DATAI LANGKAWI

Nestled in an enchanting rainforest sanctuary, The Datai Spa with four open-air villas set along a winding stream is designed to let you imbue the spirit of surrounding nature. The calming sound of the purling creek blends with the melodies of exotic birds, the refreshing breeze carries the earthy fragrance of the jungle, and while enjoying a hibiscus bath, you may spot a monitor lizard or a dusky leaf monkey. Featuring private changing facilities, indoor and outdoor shower and a spacious soak tub, each of the treatment villas provides an intimate atmosphere and can accommodate couples. Embracing the ancient healing and beauty tradition of Ramuan, the Spa menu features traditional Malay treatments that incorporate rare medicinal plants from the rainforest and follow secret recipes used for thousands of years by local healers. Experienced therapists are ready to recommend the most suitable treatments and describe in detail their benefits. Immersed in a meditative state, and with all your needs addressed, you will fully experience the art of the loving touch

AMAYA SPA at PANTAI KOK

Embracing Taoist philosophy that views illness as a result of any energy imbalance, Amaya Spa is devoted to restoring one's original equilibrium, and to stimulating the self-healing forces within the body. The design of the Spa follows feng-shui principles, and the background music features Alchemy Sound Therapy, known for attuning the brain-waves to a healthy vibration. Strategically placed charcoal crystals and special paint on the walls absorb any negativity, while all therapists practice qi-gong on a daily basis to raise their energy levels. Although single treatments from massage therapy to foot reflexology and ear candling are available, especially popular are holistic packages that include a variety of complimentary add-ons such as herbal packs, eye pillow treatment, Garra Rufa Fish Therapy, and seasonal fruit platter.

LGK ASHI SPA & MASSAGE at

KUALA TERIANG

A cosy Spa, Lgk Ashi features three cheerfully decorated couple rooms, a foot reflexology lounge that can accommodate groups of up to eight guests, private reflexology room, whirlpool, cold plunge, and an unusual cave-like chamber with a bubble foot bath pond. While specialising in reflexology, the Spa offers also a variety of body treatments, massages, mani & pedi services, cupping, ear candling and facials utilising innovative beauty apparatus promoting cell-renewal.

Run by a Korean family, many of the treatments incorporate unique herbal mixtures from their home country, and the exotic noni fruit with its powerful antioxidant properties. The father, considered a 'family doctor' by many of his neighbours, is known for his ability to accurately diagnose and cure a variety of conditions with acupuncture, wet cupping and other alternative treatments. A firm believer of Eastern healing philosophy, Mr. Lee is less concerned with specific symptoms and focuses instead on finding the underlying cause of any discomfort or disease. As he restores in the course of multiple sessions the equilibrium in your body, you are likely to walk away not only free of your original health concern but feeling a general boost in vitality

HIGHLIGHTS Reflexology, Cupping & Acupuncture, Royal Ashi Langkawi Package. To treat successfully serious health conditions, plan ahead and book treatment series for the duration of your holiday stay.

ANJUNG SPA at

ORIENTAL VILLAGE

Situated in Oriental Village, Anjung Spa is the perfect place to relax after waiting in the cable car queue, trekking on top of Gunung Machinchang or enjoying shopping in the souvenir and retail stores. With floor-to-ceiling windows, the Spa is flooded with natural light that highlights the airy ambiance and contemporary design.

The Spa menu focuses on shorter treatments, with reflexology or head, shoulder and back massage starting with 30-minute services. If you have a little more time, you can opt for 60 or 90 minute signature Anjung Sakti Massage that blends traditional Malay and Hawaiian techniques with gentle stretching elements. Another attraction is the Dr. Fish Therapy. With soothing ocean sounds playing in the background, the two spacious pools are each home to 2000 garrarufa – fish with suctionshaped mouths that will gently nibble away keratinized skin cells from your feet, effectively removing calluses while providing a wonderful micro-massage. With 50% discount for children, it is a fun experience for the entire family. The retail area features an extensive collection of 'Mountain Scents' products. Beautifully packaged, the skin and body care products, sea cucumber soaps, variety of teas and aromatherapy candles are all made from natural ingredients, and make a great gift.

MASSAGE Therapy

AROMATHERAPY MASSAGE

With origins dating back more than 5000 years, aromatherapy is one of the oldest holistic healing arts. The virtues of fragrances were celebrated in the early civilisations of Egypt, China, India and Persia, and utilised during religious ceremonies, in beauty rituals, and for the purpose of healing.

Aromatherapy massage is a sensory symphony seamlessly blending gentle touch with the delicate fragrances of pure essential oils, the highly concentrated extracts of aromatic plants. Long soothing strokes will relax your body, allowing the powerful substances of flowers, leaves, seeds, barks and roots to unfold their healing properties.

Tailored to meet your individual needs, you will be given the choice of various blends with the option of a refreshing, balancing or relaxing experience.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Allergy to specific essential oils.
- During pregnancy the following essential oils: bay, basil, clary sage, comfrey, fennel, hyssop, juniper, marjoram, melissa, myrrh, rosemary, thyme, sage
- Avoid sun exposure if enjoying treatment incorporating essential oil derived from citrus plants.

AYURVEDIC ABHYNGA MASSAGE

Ayurveda, the ‘Science of Longevity’, originated in the Indian province Kerala more than 5,000 years ago. In Ayurvedic philosophy, the world is comprised of five basic elements: space, air, water, fire and earth. These elements combine in pairs to form doshas (vata, pita and kapha), the three dynamic forces within our bodies. Any imbalance among them causes discomfort and potentially illness. All Ayurvedic treatments therefore aim to restore the original harmony.

Abhyanga is an Ayurvedic anointment treatment, utilising a generous amount of oil infused with an individual blend of potent herbs. Employing a variety of gentle massage techniques, including the stimulation of the vital marma points, the elements within your body will be pacified. With the equilibrium restored, you will feel rejuvenated and full of energy.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Allergy to any herbs or spices incorporated in the medicated oils.
- Potential allergy to a carrier oil, especially to sesame oil if you have reaction to nuts.
- If in doubt, test tolerance prior to the treatment by applying a small amount of the blend on your wrist.

BALINESE MASSAGE

Inscribed on ancient palm leaves, the healing art of the Balinese massage is passed from generation to generation in a ritual blessing the ‘Chosen’ with a giving heart and intuitive hands.

Enveloping your body in a rich coconut oil infused with the sacred essence of the frangipani blossom, your therapist will apply in a rhythmical motion gentle palm pressure to release any tension, and unravel with a focused thumb-slide even the most deeply seated knots. Balancing the pathways of energy in sync with your breath, you will reach a state of a complete equilibrium.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

None known.

BAMBOO MASSAGE

Emerging from the earth, and growing straight and tall as if aiming to reach the heavens, the bamboo plant symbolises strength, suppleness, youth, and inner peace, guiding your soul to become one with these virtues as the bamboo stick touches your skin. With the walls of the bamboo being covered with silica, the tiny crystal-like matrixes get activated through the friction, creating a unique tingling sensation as they release a subtle yet powerful energy.

Strong and smooth, the bamboo stick adjusts perfectly to your body contours, penetrating with a fluid rolling motion tight and sore muscles and melting away even the most deeply seated tension.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

None known.

HERBAL STAMP MASSAGE

The herbal stamp massage originates in the ancient healing traditions of Thailand.

A herbal poultice containing a fragrant mixture of indigenous herbs such as lemongrass, clove, tamarind, pandan leaf, and ginger is either steamed or immersed in warm coconut oil, with the heat activating the healing properties of the ingredients. Following a soothing rhythm, the thermal stamps are pressed against your skin, relaxing tense muscles and stiff joints, and promoting intense detoxification. The subsequent deep tissue massage will relax your body, mind and spirit.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Potential allergy to any herbs or spices comprising the poultic
- Heat sensitivity.

HOT STONE MASSAGE

Used for thousands of years by Native Americans during sweat lodge ceremonies, the hot stone massage will free your body and mind of physical and spiritual impurities.

The lava rocks placed along your chakras will attune you to the energy of the magnetic core of the Earth, restoring inner balance, and promoting a feeling of deep relaxation.

Incorporated in the massage strokes, the smooth lava stones radiating soothing heat will become an extension of your therapist's hands, melting the tension in each and every muscle, preparing it for the following deep tissue work.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Heat sensitivity.
- High blood pressure.
- Peripheral vascular disorder.
- Loss of bodily sensations – often the result of surgery where nerves have been cut
- Parkinson's Disease.

NUAD TRADITIONAL THAI MASSAGE

Thai massage is based on the philosophy that all life is animated by the essential life-force, prana. It circulates along energy pathways called sen, nourishing all aspects of our being.

Refined in the course of thousands of years by the monks in Buddhist monasteries, nuad is a unique blend of passive yoga, acupressure and reflexology. Utilising fingers, palms, elbows, knees and feet, the therapist will manipulate your body into yoga-like positions, stretching your muscles, releasing tight joints and increasing flexibility. Stimulating pressure points along the energy pathways sen in a meditative gentle rocking motion, the therapist will release any blockages, enabling your energy to freely flow, and rejuvenate your entire body.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Osteoporosis and brittle bones
- Spinal fusion
- Artificial joints

REFLEXOLOGY

Originating in Taoist China 5,000 years ago, this unique holistic art is based on the principle that our hands and feet mirror the entire body, with each pressure point being linked to a specific organ or gland.

A gentle pressure exercised either with the thumbs or with a wooden reflexology stick will stimulate their functions, promoting a natural healing process and harmony within your body, and creating a marvelous sensation of head-to-toe relaxation. Experienced practitioners are capable of effectively treating specific medical conditions.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

None known.

URUT MELAYU

The traditional Malay massage is based on the ancient concept of 'moving the wind' or "Angin".

Deep pressure strokes working the length of the muscles effectively relieve muscular tension, and stimulate the flow of blood within veins and arteries. Rhythmical palm press strokes and the focused pressure of the thumbs soften tight, congested spots, recognised by the practitioner as angin, pockets of trapped wind. A rich coconut oil infused with the extract of indigenous rainforest plants will boost blood circulation, and invigorate your entire body.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Susceptibility to bruising.
- Allergy to any oil ingredients

GENERAL MASSAGE CONTRAINDICATIONS

Apart from conditions highlighted as specific to certain massage techniques, the following contraindications and precautions apply to all massage treatments.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Fever
- Inflammation such as phlebitis, dermatitis, or arthritis
- High blood pressure when untreated
- Infectious diseases
- Cancer
- HIV
- First trimester during pregnancy

PRECAUTIONS

- Avoid applicable areas if suffering from:
- Hernia
- Varicose veins
- Edema
- Open lesions
- Deep abdominal work during the entire pregnancy

BODY Treatment

BODY POLISH

Body polish, sometimes called also as body scrub or body peeling, is an exfoliation treatment. During mechanical exfoliation, dead skin cells are physically rubbed off with an abrasive such as salt, sugar, coffee, coconut slivers or ground kernels of various plants. These are usually blended with carrier oil, creating an easy-to-apply paste, which is then rubbed in a circular motion all over the body. The addition of essential oils or various herbs and spices determines secondary benefits such as invigorating or relaxing effects.

A slightly gentler way to liberate the skin of dull skin cells, chemical exfoliation utilises enzymes derived from various tropical fruits such as pineapple or papaya. With the blend left on the skin for a while, the enzymes loosen the glue-like substance that holds the skin cells together, causing the outermost surface of the epidermis to naturally slough away.

Regardless of the technique, a body polish removes dull, lifeless skin cells, unclogs congested pores, enhancing tone and texture, and leaving skin smooth and radiant.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Allergy to any ingredients
- Shaving or waxing less than 24 hours prior
- Over-exfoliation that will dry and irritate the skin (Wait a minimum of two days prior to repeating the treatment)
- Avoid waxing for 48 hours following the treatment

BODY ENVELOPMENT

During body envelopment treatment (sometimes also called as body wrap or body mask), the entire body is covered in a mixture with a creamy texture, applied either by hand or with a brush. Upon application, skin will be cocooned in a linen, thin plastic or alternatively covered with banana leaves, and left on for approximately 20 min. The heat developing underneath the cover opens the pores, allowing the product to deeply penetrate skin, and unfold its properties. Many spas provide a scalp or foot massage during the rest period.

There is a variety of body envelopments to choose from: clay, mud, seaweed, and herbal wraps. Benefits differ widely, depending on the nature of the envelopment and the ingredients utilised, a body wrap can re-mineralize, nourish or hydrate skin, supply vitamins and anti-oxidants, flush out toxins or even promote weight loss.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Claustrophobia
- Allergy to any ingredients

BATH RITUAL

Bathing rituals provide a wonderful opportunity to reunite with the primordial element of water, and cleanse oneself physically and psychically.

Whether bathing in a pool of exotic flowers, or enjoy a bath infused with the delicate aroma of essential oils, or exquisite herbal essences, a bath ritual will enchant the senses, allow you to stand still, and re-connect with your inner self. It is also a beautiful ceremony experience to share with your partner.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

None known

FISH PEDICURE

The garra rufa fish was first discovered in the early 1800s in the pools of a hot spring near Kangal, a small town in Turkey. Due to the scarcity of food in their original habitat, caused by the water's elevated temperatures and high mineral contents, these fish developed the unusual behavior of nibbling dead skin cells from people bathing in the springs, which has been proven beneficial in battling skin disorders such as eczema or psoriasis.

Although from the piranhas family, garra rufa have no teeth but use a suction-shaped mouth to nibble away keratinized skin cells, effectively removing calluses and destroying bacteria while leaving the exposed healthy skin intact. Taking advantage of this unique feeding behavior, the garra rufa is being utilised in pedicure services.

Having hundreds of fish running their little suction cup mouths along your feet and toes is certainly unusual. But the initial anxiety and the slightly ticklish feeling quickly dissipate, to be replaced by a tingling sensation of a stimulating micro-massage.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

- Any open wounds or infections on feet or the parts of legs immersed in water
- Warts or any contagious skin diseases
- Follow carefully the hygiene procedures of the chosen establishment
- Every guest should wash feet prior to entering the fish pool
